Call for Expressions of Interest - ICT and Electronics Value Chain

The United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO) invites companies from the European Union to express interest in the open call for ICT and Electronics Value Chain. This action is part of the project “SWITCH to Circular Economy Value Chains” (SWITCH2CE), co-funded by the European Union and the Government of Finland.

The open call is aimed at EU-headquartered multinational companies (MNCs) that operate in the field of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) and Electronics and that have operations in a non-G20 country.

The objective of this open call is to identify pilot projects which could, with appropriate support, assist the suppliers of EU MNCs to switch to more circular economy approaches and practices. The selected pilot project will gain support that will be made available in the form of capacity development, technical expertise, circular ecosystem development and access to finance.
